On Saturday last, Mr. McKinlay, the popular and impartial correspondent of our midst, for the purpose of reporting the day's doings. His excellent report, in the shape of a telegraphic dispatch to the News & Courier, we publish in another column. It is headed "Army in Edgefield." Mr. McKinlay also gives us very important information concerning the movements and sayings of Gen Ruger, the Federal Commander of the Department of the South.

add. In fact as we attended closely upon rested, however. the Radical meeting in the Academy grove, we were eye witness to but little that transpired among our compatriots upon the public square. At this meeting, Lawrence Cain presided. The four speakers were Smalls, the colored Congressman; Fillebrown, a white carpetbagger, who is Comptroller-General white carpe.-bagger, resident in Aiken, and Radical candidate for Solicitor in this judicial circuit; and Hayne, the colored Secretary of State, who is also the present nominee for that office. Smalls is a dark brown, corpulent negro. of excellent countenance, who spoke strongly in behalf of his party, but respectfully and without bitterness. Fillebrown proved to be simply a most insufferable old twaddler, who confused and bored the negroes beyond measure. Erayion is a fine-looking man, who is evidently a very shrewd demagogue. He is a ready and a good speaker, and on this occasion was moderate and cantions. Hayne, born and bred in South Carolina, has but little negro blood in him, and is still quite young. He is almost perfectly white, and, like Smalls, is corpulent and of excellent countenance. He is intelligent and humorous. And, like Smalls again, his speech was strongly partisan, but without any particular acrimony. The two colored speakers-as is always the case-struck us as being far more honest and kindly than the two whites. For malevolence and misrepresentation always commend us to a white carpet-bagger.

The crowd of negroes in attendance was large; but still small-very smallcompared to the crowds that came out on such occasions two or three years back. And tney behaved themselves well.

this meeting. During Hayne's speech, he made some allusion to Gen. Butler, which, although respectful, in fact com-Gen. Butler, who was standing near by, wished to remove. Consequently the General requested to be heard for a few minutes, which request was declined, in very respectful terms, by the Chairman. During the whole course of the speaking, the marshals and detectives-an exand before sun set both whites and blacks had quietly departed from our town.

The Negro Nominating Convention. The County Nominating Convention of the Radical party met in our Court House on Thursday morning last, and, after a boisterous, disorganized, radderless, ridiculous session of three days, adjourned on Saturday, having accomtished nothing but the nomination of Cain for the Senate. As regards the rest of the nominations they could in no wise agree, and they finally concluded to leave it to their Executive Committee to appoint the remainder of the ticket. The said Committee, if we mistake not, is present in our town to-day, Tuesday, striving to accomplish this business The party is evidently much divided and demoralized. McDevitt is in jail-where he ought to remain for the rest of his natural life-and they have no leader.

John Hankinson, a colored Democrat, has also been arrested, and bail refused him. All have been admitted to bail in the above sum except six, for whom bail has been refused The work of arresting is still going on, under the management of the notorious Canton and Blackwell.

The New York Herald has sent down a reporter to Aiken for the express pur pose of investigating and reporting the Ellenton riot. This reporter is not only a sensible man, but must be one of im mense energy. His account, published in the Herald a few days back, makes a truthful and splendld showing for the white people of Aiken, Edgefield and Barnwell. It is full, minute, careful and exhaustive, and bears upon its face the imprint of truth and accuracy. There is nothing to justify warrants by United of the Union to develop the resources States commissioners or arrests by marshals. and infamous to the last degree. And we would not be surprised if it were this very document, given to the world by the Herald, that has frightened Grant and caused him to put a bit in arrests in Aiken and Barnwell.

The State Fair in Columbia.

The opening of our annual State Fair in Columbia has been postponed from Extremely few whites were present at the 10th to the 21st of N vember. Very unusual efforts are being made to render this Exhibition a grand success; and the people of Edgefield, notwithstandplimentary, admitted of a coloring that | ing the exciting and engrossing political canvass, should undoubtedly take an interest in the matter, and contribute. by their presence, and by specimens of their products and their industry, to the success of the undertaking.

The grand jury of Abbeville, composed of five colored men and eight white, presented Governor Chamberlain to-day for defaming the character of the people of that county by issuing his ruin, which must serve as a lesson for proclamations, declaring that domestic violence existed in that county.

In a speech of Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, he declared that African slavery was the corner-stone of the Southern Contederacy, when the enlightened public pinion of the world had proclaimed its doon.

> The dogma of Jefferson, that all men are created free and equal, was adopted from the licentious political philosophy that obtained in France about the time of the Declaration of the Independence of America. It has no truth in observation or the laws of nature. In France their idea of liberty is universal equality. Before the law all citizens should enjoy equality, but not equality of position and condition in society.

In the order of creation there is no equality. The Caucasian, Mongol an are each superior in the order in which they are named, and each dissimilar in appearance and nature. The lion, tiger, bear copard, wolf and fox are different and unequal. The leviathan, whale, porpoise and sturgeon are dissimilar. The eagle pelican and hawk are unlike. At that time Mexico was the equal of the United States, in all of the elements of National greatness and prosperity with a territory bounded by the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, stretching from the Sabine River to the Equator, with a coast on the Pacific nearly four thousand miles long, with a climate of great salubrity, with a soil fruitful in the production of cotton, coffee, sugar, corn, wheat, oats, and all of the tropical fruits. A land where "whispering hopes" were breathed by the high bred Castillian to the darkeyed maiden of his choice, amidst orange groves and lemon bowers; where, too, the Indian wooed the belle of the forest, in the misty maxes of the war-dance, and the sooty breasted negro, mated with the dark daughters of Africa, without the formal and irksome bonds of matrimony. Under the shadows of mellow moonlight they breathed an air perfumed by the rose and magnolia, whose sensuou undulations were alone disturbed by the sweet trills of the mocking bird, all lived for a time, in seeming happiness and barmony, upon the rich luxuriance of this wonderful country. This magnificent plantation, on Saluda, will take place on | country, that had been touched with such partiality by the lavish land of nature, adopted a constitution identical in form and principle with that created in 1787 by the framers of our Constitution. Wholesale Arresta of White Citizens | Gen. Gary's Ridge Speech--Continued | suicidal policy. There has already set in a reaction in the minds of the peo-ple of the North against this great crime against nature and the of good government. As an evidence of it, President Grant has sent in a messag to Congress, favoring a system of qualified suffrage to take effect in the year A. D. 1890. It is the best thing he has done since he has been in power and is intended to reach this national evil. God grant that it may do so, before the poison converts the body politic into a putrifying and dying monster. But in leaving the calamities that affect the National Government, I must consider the misfortunes that now beset our State Little did I ever dream that I should see the proud escutcheon of this State dragged in the dirt as it has been for the last eight years, under the triumphal chariots of the carpet-bagger, negro and scalawag; the logical results of the false legislation of the Republican party.

This State is composed of gallant men, and glorious women, the splendid types of the Cavalier and Huguenot, in whose hoped that for each wrong and insult given to her honored mane, that the sword of an avenging Nemesis, would have leaped from the scabbard of a thousand of her sons. But their spirit of manhood and heroic enterprise has been slumbering like Sampson shorn of his locks. I see to-day that the fires of patriotism have been rekindled, and are burning upon her altars. That brave sons are rallying around her from the mountains to the seaboard, and that they will rescue her from the degrading supremacy of the ignorant and the corrupt rule of the carpet-bagger.

During the long years that misrule has thrown its shadow over our State, our glorious old Palmetto, which symbolizes our historic past, has been kept from withering and dying by the tears of our beau-tiful women. In the glorious future should it become necessary, it will be watered by the blood of the patriotic sons of South Carolina. I feel confident that the spirit that has inscribed "Resurgamus" upon her flag, will cause the "Prostrate State" to arise and glitter among the constellation o States, like the morning star, full of hope full of splender, and full of joy and happiness forever.
